The Plymouth Intergenerational Center

A community facility that will serve and enhance the lives of children, seniors and their families within the greater Plymouth/Sheboygan area

Community Benefits for the Greater Plymouth/Sheboygan County Community

- Attracting and retaining a quality workforce for local employers through providing families with community-based child care and senior services options.
- Providing local employers with family support services that may lead to greater employee productivity, increased morale, and decreased absenteeism.
- Helping to break down stereotypes and discrimination of the young and old and fostering recognition of needs at all age levels.
- Preserving historical and cultural traditions.
- Forming partnerships among community organizations and individuals.
- Providing parenting programs, support groups, home visits, library resources and many other family-supporting programs, services, referrals and community events for thousands of Sheboygan County residents each year.
- Enhancing community spirit and pride through working together to meet the needs of local citizens.
- Improving the overall health of the community through wellness and health programs.

The Mission

The Plymouth Intergenerational Coalition was formed to explore the idea of combining child care and senior facilities in order to realize the benefits of intergenerational programming, shared facility resources, expanded programs, services, and increased community involvement.

Building A Dream

To carry out this mission, the Plymouth Intergenerational Coalition (PIC) obtained 501(c)(3) (non-profit) status.

It has developed into a unique, "grassroots," public - private partnership of organizations and individuals centered around the mission of developing an intergenerational center to serve the Plymouth/Sheboygan area. This will include a Senior Center, a Child Care Center, and a Family Resource Center.

With the creation of an Intergenerational Center, our community will gain enhanced child care opportunities, expanded resources and opportunities for seniors, and programs to enhance the lives of both generations.
